

QUALITY POLICY

Güdel Lineartec UK provide modular automated systems and precision components. Maintenance contracts for inspection and servicing purposes are also provided.

The quality policy of Güdel UK is to deliver a high standard of service to our customers in accordance with UK legal and regulatory requirements.

The Directors and Senior Management of the company are responsible for producing a system which aims to satisfy our customer requirements. The system is designed to comply with the requirements of ISO 9001:2015.

The Quality Management System will be reviewed periodically to ensure that the company's current quality objectives and processes are being met. This includes reviewing suppliers and sub-contractors performance.

All employees are aware of the importance of complying with the policy which will itself be reviewed periodically to ensure its continued suitability and applicability. When the policy is changed it will be re-implemented within the organisation as required.

The Quality Management System is defined and strongly driven by building a mutually profitable relationship with our customers to ensure our long-term success by achieving our commitments to continually improve and develop our staff competences.
